BMC'S Builder Driven Eviction of MGP from Grahak Bhavan quashed by court

— Adv. Shirish V. Deshpande, Chairman

BMC's eviction order declaring Mumbai Grahak Panchayat (MGP) as a "trespasser and unauthorised occupant" in its own "Grahak Bhavan" building has been set aside by the Principal Judge of the City Civil Court, Shri Anil Subramanyam by observing that this "action is seen to be initiated and is in assistance of concerned developer more than that of MCGM".

Background: BMC had allotted plot of land admeasuring 5000 sq. ft. to MGP at JVPD scheme in 1985 on lease for constructing its own building. The building, called "Grahak Bhavan" was completed by MGP in 1987 and the lease was thereafter renewed by BMC in 2004 till December 31, 2030.

In the intervening period, a developer Sucheta Construction submitted plans for re-development of JVPD Municipal Market located adjacent to Grahak Bhavan. BMC approved this re-development proposal on the specific condition that the plot allotted to MGP would be excluded from the said re-development. However, considering the huge benefits that would accrue to the developer by including Grahak Bhavan plot, the developer managed to get MGP's Lease Agreement arbitrarily terminated by the then Municipal Commissioner Mr Ajoy Mehta in 2016 without any notice to MGP.

When MGP protested against such unilateral termination of the lease agreement, BMC then issued a Show Cause Notice to MGP as to why the lease agreement should not be terminated. The detailed reply by MGP could not cut ice with BMC. The BMC came out with an excuse that the Lease renewal upto December 2030 was subject to approval by the Improvements Committee and that there is no Improvements Committee approval and hence the lease has expired by efflux of time in 1996 itself.

The BMC Commissioner, thus reiterated in 2018 his earlier decision of termination of MGP's Lease by calling upon MGP to vacate the premises immediately failing which MGP would be termed as "Trespasser and Unauthorised Occupant" under Sec 105 (B) of BMC Act. The Commissioner also gave MGP an absurd option to continue in the re-development project by surrendering its status as a "Lessee" and give a written consent to become the "Licensee" in the new premises with the same area.

MGP's persistent attempts to persuade the Commissioner failed and ultimately BMC issued Notice to MGP in 2020 u/s 105 (B) of BMC Act. The Enquiry Officer of BMC conducted the Enquiry and passed the Order of Eviction on 04.03.2021. On MGP's challenging this Order in the City Civil Court, the matter was remanded back for giving proper hearing to MGP along with permission to produce relevant documents.

However, once again the Enquiry Officer issued an Order of Eviction on 11.04.2023. It is this Eviction Order of the BMC which is now quashed and set aside by the Principal Judge of Mumbai City Civil Court.

In his reasoned order the City Civil Court Judge has observed that the lease cancellation by the BMC Commissioner without any prior notice was arbitrary and legally untenable. The Court has noted that the eviction appeared dictated by the builder and not by public interest. The Court has also observed that records did not support BMC's claim that MGP failed to co-operate in the re-development process. RTI documents produced by MGP revealed that MGP's lease renewal had indeed gone before the Improvements Committee, contrary to BMC's stand. The Court has raised several questions about bona fides and mala fides of BMC and noted that BMC has failed to provide documents and proper explanations in this regard. While parting, the Court has also referred to the Bombay High Court's judgement in June 2024 which had already held that amenity plots in the JVPD area are duly conveyed in favour of 14 housing societies way back in 1960 and further observed that this is casting shadow on the title of MCGM over said premises which can vitiate the proceedings at the inception itself.

MGP was represented by Advocates Niranjan Bhadang, Vrushali Kabre, Pooja Joshi Deshpande and Shirish Deshpande. In this long drawn legal battle Dr Archana Sabnis, Sharmila Ranade, Architects Arun Jogalekar, Praful Shahane and Yomesh Rao also extended their valuable support.

Shopping festival

-Anuradha Deshpande,

President, Panchayat Peth Committee

This is the 47th year of the Grahak Panchayat Peth. For the past 46 years, except for the Corona period, this Panchayat Peth has been organised regularly. This initiative, which supports our organization to become financially self-reliant, is organized at about 12 places in a year. After completing two phases of these Panchayat Peths, the third phase of this initiative is starting after the Ganpati Visarjan. Our Panchayat Peth has definitely created a unique place for itself in the market by ensuring fair transactions.

There is a proliferation of consumer fairs in the market. Without following any proper procedures, these markets are organized with only advertisements and deceptive discounts. For this, misleading claims like finding a place in the 'Guinness Book' are made. But the Panchayat peth organized by Mumbai Grahak Panchayat do not need these fraudulent claims. The shoppers here are smart customers and are aware that they will get value for their money. MGP chooses the stall holders who ensure this and this tree of Panchayat peth is flourishing due to the combination of these two. There are no fraudulent sales here, no bargaining and there is an obligation to give a receipt to every customer. And if any complaint arises, there is a facility for redressal of the complaint.

On the occasion of this special issue let us take a look at what has Pancyat peth given to the society. The Grahak Panchayat is not just an organization that deals with trading. Basically, Mumbai grahak panchayat is a leading registered voluntary consumer organization in the consumer movement. Every volunteer of this organization contributes to the best of his/her ability without expecting any remuneration. Wherever consumers are taken for a ride or deceived Mumbai grahak panchayat is always working to protect the interests of consumers. The volunteers have a great contribution to the activities that the organization undertakes. This picture will not be seen by anyone in any other commercial peth. The work of the organization was recorded by the United Nations last year. The contribution of peth to the financial self-reliance of the organization has been so significant that, this work has been permanently placed on the United Nations (UNCTAD) website, which is a matter of rightful pride for every volunteer.

Today the world is running fast towards digitization. A simple vegetable vendor or auto ricksha driver will ask us to pay digitally. Though the picture looks simple it has many risks. Cyber crimes are increasing; online frauds have become very common. when this problem has hit globally Mumbai Grahak Panchayat is pursuing for the Online Dispute Redressal (ODR) for addressing consumer complaints may it be national or international. Adv. Shirish Deshpande is fighting for consumer rights on global platform for almost two decades. His demand for ODR was accepted at the global level at the UNCTAD conference in July this year. The entire consumer world should be grateful for this decision. Our Panchayat Peth is a small model of fair consumer transactions. Here, consumers are made aware of their rights. Emphasis is given on aware shopping. Unfair market practices have no place here.

On the auspicious occasion of Navratri and Diwali Panchayat Peth will be organized at Dadar, Thane, Andheri, Vasai and Borivali. We invite all our smart consumers to these exhibitions.

Wish you all a very happy Dashera and Diwali.

- Anuradha Deshpande,
President, Panchayat Peth
Committee

This is the third year of the “Setu Bandha Re!” initiative. For the past two years, every moment of organizing this event has reinforced the thought that there’s still so much work to be done; this is just the beginning. The idea of “Setu” (bridge) had been in my mind for years, but it took a long time to become a reality. As it is said, everything happens when the time is ripe! That time came two years ago, and the ‘Setu’ initiative was successfully launched. Many organizations from different parts of Maharashtra participated. Some run institutions for slow learner girls providing them with warmth and care, while others look after orphaned girls with intellectual disabilities who were literally abandoned on the streets, taking care of them with immense love. We connected with organizations working against the extreme poverty, ignorance, inadequate medical services, and malnutrition in tribal areas, empowering them to become self-reliant. A large number of these organizations worked for people with physical, intellectual, and visual disabilities.

As we organize this initiative for the third year, many new organizations are joining us. The fundamental concept of this project is to extend a helping hand to such institutions. This journey began with the feeling of contributing our small part to the great work these organizations are doing. This has also given me the opportunity to visit some of these organizations, and I was left speechless. I wholeheartedly salute these people and institutions who strive for the rehabilitation of people with intellectual and physical disabilities, and those who are visually impaired.

These institutions try to make the people they serve self-reliant. Based on their abilities, they are given suitable work. Their talents and skills are recognized, and they are encouraged to create various products. This is not an easy task. It requires immense hard work, extreme patience, and a lot of love. The platform available for bringing these products to society is limited. The Mumbai Grahak Panchayat is making a little effort to provide that platform. All problems cannot be solved with money alone. While money is certainly needed to run these institutions, and many generous individuals and organizations help them, is it really enough?

Their products may not be perfect, but their efforts are truly commendable. Our goal is to empower them with dignity and confidence and give their products a good platform. “Setu” means a ‘bridge’ or a ‘causeway’.

This “Setu Bandha Re!” initiative is a bridge between the “haves” and the “have-nots.”

This year, some new organizations are participating in the “Setu” initiative, along with some from last year. Here is a brief introduction to some of the new organizations:

Paraplegic Foundation

The 'Sanjeevan Deep' school for children with some intellectual disorder and hearing impairment is run in Airoli. Mentally challenged children above the age of 18 are given vocational training and encouraged to make various products. There are about 61 children from nursery to 10th grade in the school. These children are given special training. These hands make many products like baby clothes, baby blankets, pillows, baby towels, and wrappers. They await your support.

Savera

'Maharashtra State Women's Council' has a special project for mentally challenged children. Girls aged 6 to 11 are given vocational training by expert teachers. The training is mainly in their mother tongue, especially Marathi and Hindi. You can find various products at their stall, such as beaded torans, cotton bags, painted diyas (lamps), dusters, and aprons.

Divyang Pratishtan

This organization's work is in the village of Wangani in Amberanth taluka. The name itself, 'Divyang' (a respectful term for people with disabilities), makes it clear who they work for. They have future plans for the rural community, including organizing community weddings, distributing necessary supplies to the disabled, and building educational hostels. You should definitely take some time to learn about their work.

Awhan Palak Sangh

This organization, based in Dadar, Mumbai, works with girls with intellectual disabilities. It's a huge challenge that Vandana Karve has taken on: to keep these girls constantly engaged by identifying their abilities and giving them work accordingly. The girls in the organization make things like envelopes, beaded necklaces, and painted diyas, based on their capacity.

Siddharth Samajik Vikas Sanstha

This institution for children with intellectual disabilities is called 'Sahas'. It operates in Atit, a village in Satara district. The children here have no exposure to formal schooling and often cannot even perform daily tasks. The teachers here take care of them with immense hard work, teaching them self-reliance and vocational skills. The children make doormats, handicrafts, lamps, umbrellas, and ladies' garment bags, among other things.

Suhit Jeevan Trust

This organization, located in Pen in Raigad district, works with adults and children with intellectual disabilities. Their work covers the Pen and Alibag areas. Their efforts are focused on both a policy level, to secure the rights of people with intellectual disabilities, and at a practical level, to make this group self-reliant by identifying their skills and having them create products. They make jute bags, decorative Diwali lights, candles, artificial flowers, and everything else needed for Diwali.

Chaitanya Welfare

This social organization, based in Thane, runs various educational and health-related initiatives. Its work includes distributing educational materials to needy students and digitizing rural schools. They do not sell products, but anyone who wants to lend a helping hand to such causes must visit them.

Samajbandhan Navanirmiti Project

This project is running in Sudhagad (Udhhar taluka) in Raigad district. This area is predominantly tribal. Even today, many girls and women face health issues and have a lack of awareness about menstruation. This project focuses on creating awareness and producing related materials, such as sanitary pads.

Samarpan Pratishthan

This organization, located in Sanjagram in the Amravati district, offers a helping hand to women who have survived rape and domestic violence, girls rescued from human trafficking, orphaned children, children of farmers who committed suicide, and disabled and orphaned elderly people. You can also help this organization, which does extremely difficult work, by donating goods or money. They are waiting for your help.

Here is a brief introduction to some of the other new organizations.

Gharkul

'Gharkul,' a home for girls with intellectual disabilities, is located in Nashik. This institution is run entirely by women. By identifying the skills of the girls here, they are encouraged to create various products. You will find a wide variety of items at the 'Gharkul' stall, including jackets for women, sky lanterns, diyas, purses, wall hangings, dohars (a type of blanket), and painted pots.

Other organizations participating in this initiative include 'Vardhishnu (Gatha)', which works on the rehabilitation of children who collect trash and their parents by providing vocational training and creating employment; Dr. Anand Nadkarni's Tri-Dal project of IPH; Kumudben Vora's School for Blind Girls; Sagar Patil's IIG Trust for the visually impaired; 'Sobati'; Savera; Anandi Special School; and 'Aai Day Care' from Pen. All of these are organizations for children with intellectual disabilities.

Other organizations participating in this initiative include 'Swayamsiddha' from Kolhapur, 'Paoowlat Foundation' from a remote area, 'Arani Kala Kendra' that works for the development of tribal communities, 'Deepstambh' from Jalgaon, and 'Divya Vidyalaya' for blind and intellectually disabled children in Jawhar.

Some of these organizations make products with the help of these individuals, while others are active in providing education, employment, and awareness to this disabled and deprived community. But their ultimate goal is one and the same: to make these special, neglected individuals self-reliant.

Society should take notice of and generously support this initiative. Here you will find beautiful sky lanterns, diyas, cloth flowers, envelopes for gifting, cloth bags, decorative items made from discarded coconut shells, towels, handkerchiefs, panches (a type of towel) made by blind girls, and mats from old sarees... the list goes on!

When festivals approach, markets are adorned with foreign goods. Artificial flowers and beaded garlands gleam, and Chinese sky lanterns dazzle. But there is no affection in them. This diya of affection and this sky lantern of affection will be found at the special "Setu" market. All the stalls here are very innovative. These organizations have come from Amravati, Kolhapur, Pune, Pen, Raigad, and Bhandara. Many such institutions need a huge response from you. These institutions, neglected by society, are waiting for understanding. They don't want sympathy; they need many capable hands to help them become self-reliant and gain self-respect.

Your visit to each stall and your purchases at this market will be a firm step towards boosting the confidence of these children and making them self-reliant.
